

DOBUTAMINE NUCLEAR STUDY

Your doctor has scheduled you for a One day / Two day Pharmacological Myocardial Perfusion (MPI) rest/stress study using Dobutamine. This test will help assess the supply of blood through your arteries and is an alternative to a treadmill test for patients who cannot exercise.

Your Resting scan will be on _____
at_____.

Your Stress test and scan will be on
_____ at_____.

On the day of your resting images an intravenous line will be started in your arm. A radioactive isotope will be injected into the intravenous line in your arm. You will be able to leave and return approximately 30-60 minutes later to complete your resting images. At this time, you will be placed under our Gamma camera that is used to image heart tissue and wall motion of your heart chambers. The scans take about 15-24 minutes to complete.

On the day of your stress images you will receive an intravenous injection of Dobutamine given through a vein in your arm. Dobutamine stimulates your heart to simulate exercise. During the Dobutamine infusion you will also receive an injection of a radioactive isotope which will allow us to take another set of images of your heart. There will be an approximate 30-60 minute wait before completing your stress images. During this break, you are encouraged to eat and drink.
